

The image shows the national flag of the United Kingdom, known as the Union Jack. It features a white field with a large red cross that has a thin white border. The cross extends to the edges of the flag. In the four quadrants created by the cross, there are blue triangles. Within each of these blue triangles, there is a red diagonal stripe, also bordered by a thin white line. The stripes in the quadrants are oriented such that they appear to continue the cross across the entire flag.
