

Augusta National is expected to open up the course for one week to the public in November of 2025. The rate per player is expected to be $10,000. Augusta National is testing this out to see market demand. An Augusta representative said “We’d donate 100% of these funds to our local community.”