

Pennsylvania Railroad 3678, a Class K-4s Pacific (4-6-2) built in 1918 at Pennsy's Juniata Shops, is running light at the New York and Long Branch Railroad's Bay Head Junction, NJ engine terminal on December 1, 1956. Pennsy had 425 of these superb locomotives, designed primarily for passenger service. The New York and Long Branch, a commuter line that operated from South Amboy to Bay Head Junction, NJ, provided their last opportunity to perform. In 1956, 3678 and 19 other K-4s were in the commuter pool at South Amboy. By late 1957, all on-line steam was a memory.
