Martin Thomas

Martin Thomas has been doing Local photography for over 2 decades. He started dartmouthphotographs.com in an attempt to partially fund his rather expensive hobby. He soon built up a large following on social media. He likes to support local business and events as much as he can and his work can be seen regularly in 'By The Dart' magazine as well as on various websites. He loves the area he lives in and this can be seen in his photography.
