I have lived in Dunblane most of my life. My gear comes with me (almost) everywhere I go. I've photographed a few weddings but landscape is my current favourite genre. One of my images has been published in a small book after a competition on "Visit The Trossachs" Facebook page, two images were published in "Scottish Life" magazine in a feature on Bridge of Allan, several have been featured in an international gallery in the Savoy Centre, Glasgow - another showing a rescue at the Monument was published by Press & Journal.
